THE HONORABLE FRED KORTH
Secretary of the Navy
My dear Captain Styer:

It is with great pleasure that I extend my best wishes to you, your officers and men of USS HOLLAND (AS-32) on this memorable occasion of her commissioning.

USS HOLLAND is a significant step forward in the development of naval ships and is the cumulative result of the combined efforts of many segments of the United States Navy. Upon her and all the ships of the Fleet lie the hopes and aspirations of the Navy. With her over-all strength featured by her POLARIS submarine tending capability, her very existence is an additional deterrent to aggression.

It has been said that a Navy is only as good as its ships. While this is true, a ship can be only as good as its crew. This has a more specific meaning because before a Navy can be effective, each ship must train for the highest possible state of readiness. To achieve this is the goal before you. I am confident that under the leadership and personal example of you and your officers the highest standards of moral behavior and devotion to duty will be achieved, and that HOLLAND will meet the challenge of her tasks in defense of our country in such manner as to reflect the highest credit upon the U. S. Navy.

Sincerely yours,

Commanding Officer U. S. S. HOLLAND (AS-32)
CAPTAIN CHARLES WILKES STYER, JR., USN

Captain Charles W. Styer, Jr., was born in Orange, New Jersey, on 20 May 1919. He started his career when he enlisted in the U.S. Naval Reserve on 23 June 1936. After a short period of active duty aboard the USS CUTTLEFISH (SS 171), he entered the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Maryland, in June of 1937. When war broke out, the academic program at the Naval Academy was accelerated and he was graduated in February of 1941. He then served aboard the USS ROWAN (DD 405) and the USS MATAGORDA (AVP 22). He entered Submarine School in June of 1942 and upon graduation he reported to the USS FLYING FISH (SS 229). During this tour, he completed four successful war patrols for which he was awarded the Secretary of the Navy Commendation Ribbon, the Bronze Star Medal, the Submarine Combat Insignia, and COMTASKFOR FORTY-TWO Letter of Commendation. In March of 1943 he became qualified in submarines, and in October of the same year he was ordered to report as Executive Officer of the USS TILEFISH (SS 307). During five more successful war patrols he was awarded two Silver Star Medals, two Bronze Star Medals, and the Submarine Combat Insignia. In July of 1945 he was given command of the USS MACKEREL (SS 204). In the latter part of 1945, he became a member of the Staff of Commander New London Group, 16th Fleet. In June of 1947, he graduated from the U.S. Naval Intelligence Post Graduate School, Washington, D.C. His next duty was with the Office of Naval Intelligence, Washington, D.C., after which he became Assistant Naval Attaché at the American Embassy in Paris, France. In 1950, he reported aboard the USS RAZORBACK (SS 394) as Executive Officer, followed by two and one-half years in command of the USS CUTLASS (SS 478). He served from 1953 to 1956 as Assignment of Forces Officer in the Fleet Operations Division of the Staff of Commander in Chief, U. S. Atlantic Fleet. In 1956, he reported to the Staff of Commander Submarine Squadron Three in San Diego, California as Operations Officer. After a year in San Diego, he reported for duty as Commander Submarine Division Sixty Three, the Atlantic Fleet Regulus Guided Missile Division. In June 1958 he reported to the Office of the Chief of Naval Operations, as Head, Surface to Surface Branch, Guided Missile Division. In September 1959, he was assigned to the Pentagon's Space and Aeronautics Arm, Advanced Research Projects Agency, Department of Defense, where he was Staff Assistant to the Director, Policy and Planning Division; during this assignment, he was promoted to Captain. He served as Chief Staff Officer, Submarine Squadron Fourteen, the first Polaris Missile Submarine Squadron of the U. S. Navy, during 1960-61. During this period the first POLARIS missiles were launched submerged by USS GEORGE WASHINGTON (SSBN 598), the first POLARIS tender was deployed to Holy Loch, Scotland to tend POLARIS submarines, and the first few POLARIS submarines were deployed to their deterrent patrols. In April 1961, he was assigned as Special Assistant for Fleet Ballistic Missile Matters to Deputy Commander Submarine Force, United States Atlantic Fleet. From this latter assignment, he was ordered as the Prospective Commanding Officer of the USS HOLLAND (AS 32).

Captain Styer is married to the former Katharine Reeves of Washington, D. C. Captain and Mrs. Styer have two daughters, Katherine, 17, and Susan, 11.
